Daily Attendance vs Class Attendance

For Hybrid/Virtual Learning Settings

- Taken during homeroom for in-person students only
- Used to confirm you're in the building when you're supposed to be
- Determines your eligibility to participate in after-school activities

If you are absent on a day you're supposed to be in the building, you:
- are unexcused (unless you provide a doctor's note or other documentation)
- cannot participate in after-school activities, including sports
- can still participate virtually and receive class credit. You will, however, be marked absent in your daily attendance

- Taken at the beginning of each class period
  - You'll have a grace period of 2 minutes after class starts to check in via Genesis Student Portal
- Used to determine class credits towards graduation
- Whether learning virtually or in person, you should report to class on time

For more details about this policy, refer to pages 11-14 in the student handbook. CLICK HERE to learn more!

Google Meet is an integral part of our hybrid model. Teachers expect students to participate in at least one of the three modes of communication Meet provides: video, audio, and chat. Make sure you know your teachers' expectations, so it doesn't negatively affect your attendance, grades, or learning experience.